Writing

Many people think about „what do different countries give to the world? All of them have different answers, but that about me. I think all countries give beautiful places, which we can visit, delicious national food and natural resources.

As for me, food is the main part of some countries. For example, Italia is famous of Its pizza and pasta, France is famous of Its bakery's delicious, but my favourite cuisine is Russian. It's very different and many abroad's tourists doesn't like Its taste, but Russia is famous of soups, salads, pancakes.

Another thing is natural resources. Nowadays many countries have problems with their neighbour, because people build the factories, which give a lot of toxic fumes. Environmental problems, fire in the forests, plants and animals, which come into a red books is usually problem in ~~other~~^{our} lives.

In conclusion, I want to say that all countries are important in our world.
